A dramatic black and white photograph of a massive blue shark resting on a sandy beach. The shark's body is angled from the bottom right towards the top left. Its mouth is wide open, revealing a row of sharp, white, serrated teeth and a small, dark, circular object (possibly a coin or a small rock) inside. A person's head and shoulders are visible, lying face down inside the shark's mouth. The background shows a calm sea with distant, hazy landforms under a clear sky.
